It's Book Sale Time In Tennessee!

The semi-annual used book sale, sponsored by the Friends of the Lawrence County Public Library, will begin on Saturday, September 10th and run through Saturday, September 24th. Our storage area is full, so plan to shop often. Prices range from 10 cents for magazines to $1.00 for trade paperback or hard cover books. Selections of "vintage" books and puzzles will be priced separately. And no, it's not too late to add to the sale. Donations of books, movies, magazines and jigsaw puzzles may be delivered to the library during business hours. Be sure to check out the display case this month. You might not want to buy our used books to read, but you may want to use them to make home décor items or Christmas gifts.

Library staff members are making plans for a variety of new programs for people of all ages. Watch for upcoming announcements for these activities which will begin in October.

Join the fun! Toddler Time begins each Thursday at 10:00 a.m. It is designed for children ages 18 months to 3 years old. They read stories, sing and dance and just have a good time! Each child must be accompanied by an adult.

September is Library Card Sign-up Month. If you have never had a card, this would be a great time to become a library user.

New in Loretto

Library Assistant, Carol Snook, now offers Thursday programs. Toddler Time begins at 10:30 a.m. At 3:30 p.m., she has AR Storytime. In this program, she reads accelerated reading titles with students in grades K-3. The students take a message from her to their teacher and can test on the book the following day.

Several new items have been added to the shelves at the Loretto Branch Library. They include:

The Friendly News...

Friends of the Lawrence County Public Library

The Friends of the Library will meet on Friday, September 9th, at 9:30 a.m. All members and others who are interested in helping to promote the library are urged to attend. We will interrupt the setup of the book sale for the meeting, so it will be a brief one. The library director will update the group about what's happened at the library during the past few weeks. Join us!

One of the services offered to our customers (thanks to the Friends group) is access to Ancestry.com—an online site used by family history researchers. Each Tuesday afternoon, people who do genealogy research online get together to share tips and encourage each other. Assistance with Ancestry.com, Family Tree Maker, and Roots Magic is also available if needed. You're invited to join others who enjoy digging for their roots using online resources at 1:00 p.m.

For Your Information...

- The Last Thursday Book Group will meet on September 29th to discuss The Grapes of Wrath by John Steinbeck. All are welcome to join the discussion, which begins at noon.
- The No Pressure Book Group will not meet in September. Watch for an announcement of the date for October meeting.
- Are you preparing to take college entrance exams? The GED exam? ASVAB? An occupational exam? Want to learn a foreign language? The Tennessee Electronic Library, helps you prepare.
